

Self-pay Package Guide

All prices quoted on our website are guide prices. The prices will be set by your consultant at the time of your initial consultation.

What is included in our self-pay package prices?

- All consultant fees for your initial consultation and procedure
- Fees for out-patient follow-up consultation with your consultant following surgery, as clinically required in relation to your original procedure
- Drugs and other materials used during your procedure
- All additional costs necessary to provide your treatment, for example, hire of special instruments or equipment
- Take home drugs advised by your consultant for up to 5 days after discharge and/or drugs for a defined course of treatment which has been prescribed by your consultant.
- Outpatient treatment that you may require after you leave the Centre which relates to your procedure ie removal of sutures.

What is not included in the self-pay package price?

Our self-pay package quotations do not include:

- Treatment of other conditions identified at pre-operative assessment which require a separate pathway of care.
- Any revision procedure which is not clinically required (clinically required means where further intervention and/or monitoring of your condition is deemed necessary as a direct result of the original surgical intervention)
